

The health care workers of 1199SEIU applaud the Chinese Progressive Association for its work improving the living and working conditions of Chinese Americans.

1199SEIU partners with community organizations, health care consumers and providers as well as the Massachusetts legislature to achieve shared goals: increased funding, expanded training, statewide health coverage, and improved quality of care for Massachusetts residents. That's why we're working with groups across the city to guarantee free and fair union elections for hospital workers, and uniting home care workers across the state in their effort to improve wages and benefits and provide quality care for seniors and people with disabilities.
